Buck Cagers Top Denison, Score 42-16

COLUMBUS, O., Dec. 12.—(AP)—Ohio State University launched its 1936-37 basketball season at a better than a point-a-minute clip tonight, defeating Denison University, 42 to 16, in a rough and tumble game before 6,068 fans at the State Fairgrounds Coliseum.

Thirty-two players took part in the contest, 17 for the Buckeyes and 15 for the visitors.

Jimmy Hull, sophomore from Greenfield, paced the Buckeyes with 10 points, scored on five field goals. He was followed closely by Dick Baker of Anderson, Ind., another sophomore, with eight.

Thirty-six fouls were called in the game, 24 against Ohio and a dozen against Denison. The invaders made little use of the free throws, however, missing 20 of 28 chances.

Ohio State players, faced with a chance to earn a place on the first-string squad which starts a coast-to-coast jaunt Dec. 20, turned on the heat throughout the game and held a 26 to 5 lead at the half. Early in the tilt McNeil and Haynes gave Denison a 4 to 0 lead but the Big Red was able to score but one more point in the first half while the Buckeyes piled up 26. The score:

Creighton Is Ohio's Victim

Buckeyes Start Long Road Trip With 35-to-28 Basketball Victory.

OMAHA, Neb., Dec. 21.—(UP)—Ohio State university's basketball team inaugurated its coast-to-coast tour with a 35-28 victory over Creighton university before 2,800 cash customers here tonight.

Lanky senior Center Earl Brown led the Bucks to an easy win with 12 points, 10 on close in-shots and two from the charity stripe.

Creighton took the lead on a basket two minutes after the game got under way, but after that the Bucks dropped in six points.
Creighton's lads made it 7-6 at that point and then famed Guard
"Tippy" Dye took charge. He nipped in two buckets to give Ohio
State a lead it never relinquished.

Creighton's toll Roman Noh was high scorer for his team with nine points.

After the first 10 minutes the Bucks used "regulars" only as stop-gaps when Creighton began to threaten seriously.

OHIO STATE CAGERS LOSE TO NEBRASKA

Leave For Coast After Dropping Game, 32
To 23

Lincoln, Neb., Dec. 23.—With an even break to show for two contests against representative Missouri valley and "Big Six" basketball teams, Ohio State's barnstorming quintet headed for the Pacific coast today where it has four more contests scheduled.

After gaining a decision over Creighton at Omaha Monday night in the opening engagement of their tour, the Bucks ran into trouble here last night and were given a 32-to-23 setback by the University of Nebraska.

With the three forwards that Coach Harold G. Olson used completely throttled the Ohio team could not muster sufficient punch to match the sharpshooting of the Cornhuskers.

Kenny Ritchell, Dick Baker and Jim McDonald, Ohio forwards, were able to score but four points among them. Baker dropped in a field goal and Ritchell connected on two foul throws.

While the Buck forwards were being stopped completely, the Nebraska forwards were cashing in regularly. Paul Amen garnered 11 points and his mate, Pete Baker, eight.

Ohio was in the lead twice in the early minutes of play as the result of Ritchell's two foul shots, but a free throw by Amen and a field goal by Pete Baker sent Nebraska into a lead it never relinquished.

Ohio did not garner a lead again until 13 minutes of the initial half passed and trailed 18 to 6 at the intermission.

The Bucks outscored Nebraska in the final half, but couldn't close the commanding gap.

The defensive play of Captain Tippe Dye again featured Ohio's showing. Jimmy Hull, sophomore guard, led the Buck scorers with seven points.

VICTORY GIVES SCARLET EVEN BREAK WITH BEARS

Augie George, Bucks' Center, Sinks Basket, Just a Few Seconds Before Final Whistle, To Clinch Game.

BERKELEY, Calif., Dec. 28.—(AP)—Barnstorming basketball players from Ohio State handed California's Bears their first defeat of the season, 30 to 28, here tonight to split a two-game series.

Tied at 28-all, with only a few seconds left in the game, Augie George, tall Ohio State center, tanked a close set-up shot as the final gun sounded.

California won last Saturday's game, 33 to 31.

Neither team's offense seemed to click, and guarding was tight. The Bears led, 17 to 14, at halftime, and through the efforts of Forward Jimmy Hull and Guard Jack Raudebaugh, the Ohioans tied the contest at 25-all.

Jim Baker of Ohio State and Jensen of California each sank foul shots. Jim McDonald, Ohio State forward, and Hillsman, California guard, each scored field goals to knot the count. Then George sneaked in his set-up shot for the winning point.

Ray Balsey, California forward, was high scorer with 11 points. Raudebaugh scored 8 for Ohio State.

Bucks Defeat U. C. L. A. Five

It's Final Game of Coast Basketball Tour.

LOS ANGELES — Given a pep talk between halves by the one and only Joe E. Brown, Ohio State had no difficulty whipping U. C. L. A., 48-39 before a crowd of 6500 in Pan-Pacific auditorium here New Year's eve.

In the first game Washington beat Southern California, which gave Ohio a clean sweep of all opponents here, since they beat Southern California the night before.

Ohio, although somewhat tired from its hard battle the night before, took the lead at the start of the game and never was pressed at any time. The Bucks finished the first half in the lead, 28 to 22, and did a lot of coasting in the second half.

Baker, Ohio forward, turned in one of the nicest games he has so far this season, dropping in five fielders and four free throws to pace the team with a total of 14 points.

Every member of the Ohio squad making the trip saw service in the game Thursday night with the exception of Augie George and Fred Crow. The latter is suffering from an infected elbow. For a while it was doubtful if he would be able to continue the trip, but he improved sufficiently to be able to start the return trip with the party.

Boughner and Ritchell both turned in nice performances on the floor, scoring 18 points between them.

Tippy Dye, Ohio's dynamic leader, played only briefly in the game last night. He was badly shaken up in the game with Southern California the night before and was taken out by Coach Olsen as soon as it was apparent that his services would not be necessary.

Thomas And Hull Leaders In Late Rally

Play Before 12,000 In Madison Square Garden.

NEW YORK, JAN. 9.—Held to a 21 to 16 disadvantage at the half, Ohio State staged a powerful rally in the second period to overcome the New York university basketball team, 39 to 32, in Madison Square Garden here tonight.

An audience of 15,000 sat in on the Buckeye's New Ycrk debut, and were electrified by the fast, aggressive brand of play as demonstrated by the red-shirted Big Ten operatives.

Shackled by the close-guarding New York defense under the basket, the Ohio State attack failed to function with any degree of effectiveness early in the game despite the fact that they tied the count five times, but in the second period came into its own.

Hull Paces Attack

Sparked by the smooth play of Jim Hull, a sophomore and Earl Thomas, Ohio State went on a rampage, piling up 15 points and going out into a 31 to 23 lead. They were never headed thereafter. Hull was high scorer for the winners with nine points.

New York bogged down completely before the dynamic Buckeye play in the hectic second half and failed to score in more than 13 minutes of action.

Bernie Carnevale, tall New York center, had scored a field goal in the first 30 seconds following the resumption of play after the intermission, but from there on it was all Ohio State with Hull, Blond Jack Raudabaugh, and Earl Thomas shooting them in from all angles.

During the 13 minutes of play wherein New York university was held scoreless the Violets had several opportunities to tally on foul shots but they were too shaken by their inability to score from the floor to capitalize on free throws afforded them.

Jerry Tarlow, dark-haired Violet guard, finally came through with the Violets' ice-breaking tally, a field goal, but the damage had been wrought as far as the Violets hopes for any possible victory were concerned.

Ohio State had a reasonably safe 31 to 25 lead when the spell was ultimately broken, and matching field goal for field goal and foul for foul shot they set the pace right up to the 39 to 32 finish.

It was the second victory registered by a Big Ten team over a metropolitan opponent on the Garden floor this year. Earlier in the season Manhattan college went down to defeat before Indiana.

Bernie Carnevale was the game's high scorer with 12 points on four field goals and four out of four successful foul shots.

SCARLET QUINTET RAMBLES

Wisconsin Receives 3rd Defeat of Season in Local Inaugural.

By ROBERT E. HOOEY,
State Journal Sports Editor.

OHIO STATE, in its first Western Conference basket ball engagement of the season, last night, before 7902 home towners, was good enough to defeat Wisconsin. The score was 28 to 22. Is Ohio State in for a successful season? I don't know! Last night they were superior to the Badgers from start to finish. Never were the visitors ahead in the manufacturing of points. But alas, the defeat was Wisconsin's third straight in as many contests at this early point of the season.

When the Ohio State defense broke fast the Scarlet looked magnificent. Those two-point buckets usually resulted. The home forces tallied 12 fielders to the Badgers eight. The Badgers counted six free throws to the home forces' four. Ten personal fouls were called on the Bucks to eight on the Badgers. This is given just for comparison of figures for those who go deeply into a statistical study of the contest.

Ohio State jumped into the lead in the first or second minute. A rookie carrying the monicker of Jimmy Hull, home address Greenfield, O., and a protege of Mel Shaw, swished the leather through the meshes for the first blow. From then on it was "all Ohio," with only Coach Foster and Trainer "Doc" Bakke and a few Badger substitutes feebly yelping "On Wisconsin."

At the intermission the Scarlet led 18 to 9 and the game looked in the bag. But before going into detail it may be advisable to pay more attention to individuals. Hull of the Scarlet and "Irish" Rooney of the visitors tied for individual scoring honors with eight digits apiece. Hull, along with Dick Baker, another sophomore from the fertile basket ball field of Indiana, looked promising in their opening Big Ten contest. But they faced Wisconsin, not Purdue, Indiana or another top-notch Big Ten challenger. That is not their fault. However, both appeared to be in need of playing experience before they can cut their names deep into Big Ten stardom. Again, one can never tell.

BADGERS SPURT.

Wisconsin, after trailing by a 2-1 margin at the half, spurted at the start of the final period. In fact, the boys in the press row stopped munching popcorn and peanuts as Fuller and Rooney registered fielders to cut Ohio State's lead 20 to 17. Even Director L. W. St. John and Football Coach Francis Schmidt of the Scarlet halted discussion of the Southern California football trip next fall to pay particular interest to the action before them.

However, when the going got tough, with only three markers separating the quintets, Ohio State showed the populace, which allowed only a few empty seats in the Coliseum, that they had what it takes to produce victory.

The Wisconsin defense started to be shattered. Ohio State's offense was again breaking fast. They banged away at the old bucket. Hull bolted through for two points and Baker, eager to make a good impression, cashed in on two shots and the game was in the bag for keeps two minutes before play was completed. In these final minutes, Jim McDonald, the old war horse, was supreme in defensive play.

The victory was Ohio State's seventh in nine contests this season. Capt. William Harrison "Tippy" Dye, always the crowd's delight, was supreme in his all-around play. He held his first opponent—Powell—scoreless, but Fuller, in the final minutes, with triumph practically written for the Scarlet in the Big Ten standing, got away for two buckets. But it was too late then to count.

Ohio State meets Minnesota Saturday night at the fairgrounds. Stiffer opposition is expected, and Ohio State, tired from many days spent as paid guests of the Pullman Co. in their meanderings from the Atlantic to the Pacific, is expected to look better than they did last night.

Great Last Half Rally Brings 23-22 Victory

Raudabaugh's Two Free Throws Give Ohio State Winning Points; First Defeat for Minnesota.

By Irven Scheibeck

LITERALLY lifting themselves by their bootstraps, Ohio came from behind with a Belasco finish in the final seven and one-half minutes of play to overcome a 21-15 lead and defeat Minnesota, 23 to 22, in a Big Ten basketball game at the fairgrounds coliseum, Saturday night.

Going into the second half on the short end of a 17-12 score, thanks to a nine-point Gopher spurt near the close of the first section of the game, Ohio throttled the Gopher attack with an airtight defense.

Not until Dick Baker, sophomore forward from Anderson, Ind., made his second appearance of the night did the Buckeyes show any attacking skill of their own, however, failing to penetrate Minnesota's own tight defense and missing repeatedly on long shots.

Baker hadn't been in two minutes before he hit a picture shot from near the free throw line. An instant later, he connected again from the side and Ohio was only two points to the bad.

Thomas Gets Going

The harassed Gophers got a momentary respite when Thomas fouled Halvorsen and the latter picked up a point on two shots from the charity line. But Thomas, whose play in the second half was a complete about face from his shaky start, soon redeemed himself. He grabbed a rebound after Dye missed another charity toss an instant later and sank it for the goal which left Ohio only one point to the bad.

Two minutes remained when Raudabaugh settled the issue. He dribbled down the floor after a smart recovery of a Gopher basket attempt which went wide. He was fouled by Halvorsen while shooting and as mammoth crowd of 9303 held its collective breath, he tossed in both free throws for the points which won the game.

There still remained a minute or more of play, but Ohio controlled the ball most of the time and Minnesota's last chance went glimmering when Kundla let a high pass get away from him near the basket. With the ball went the visitors' final basket opportunity and five seconds later the gun ended it.

Ohio's defense in the second half was well nigh perfect, Minnesota making but one goal from the floor, a long shot by Kundla which sent them into a 20-13 lead. Thomas put Ohio back in the running soon after, however, and there were no further fireworks until Baker popped in the two goals which served as the spearhead of the Ohio assault.

Work of the guards on both teams was outstanding. Rolek and Seebach each counted two baskets apiece and kept Ohio's forwards well in check for the most part, in addition to acting as main springs in the visitors' clever passing attack. Kundla, Addington and Manly, the chief scoring threats of McMillan's team, could not get loose under the basket, so vigilant was the defensive work of Dye and Raudabaugh. Dye held Addington without a basket to keep intact his record of never having allowed more than two baskets per game on a Columbus floor during his Buckeye career.

Good Floor Play

McDonald and Raudabaugh played outstanding floor games for Ohio, the former in the first half and the latter in the final drive when he retrieved most of the "jump" balls and contributed frequent interceptions of Minnesota passes.

The first half was a slam-bang battle with the score being deadlocked on six occasions before the Gophers put on a sustained spurt by Seebach, one each by Kundla and Rolek and a free throw by the latter.

Brilliant Late Rush Does Trick

Gee Plays Greatest Game
Of His Career
In Vain.

ANN ARBOR, MICH., JAN. 23.—Ohio State's fighting basketball team blasted Michigan's Big Ten title hopes tonight, scoring a 37-32 win over the Wolverines.

The Buckeyes took a two-point lead at the half and held it against furious Michigan drives throughout the second period as the Wolverines attempted one of their familiar belated rallies. But it was Ohio State which had the last-minute punch and the Buckeyes ended the game going away, scoring twice with little more than a minute to play after Michigan had sent the score to 33-32.

Captain John Gee kept Michigan in the game with the finest performance of his career, scoring 13 points, 10 of them in the second half. Earl Thomas, the Buckeyes' pivot star, followed Gee with 11 points. John Radebaugh, with nine points, was second high mark for Ohio State, while Bill Barclay and Herman Fishman trailed Gee for Michigan with seven points.

Long Shots Connect

The Buckeyes found hard going with their set plays, Michigan's tight defense keeping them from under the basket, but their long shots were effective throughout. Michigan found little trouble in getting under the basket, but was not hitting on the short shots. A tipating Ohio State's defense. Tactics, Coach Franklin Cappon kept John Townsend away from the pivot and put the elongated Gee in his place and from that position Gee proved the most dangerous man on the floor.

The first half was closely played, although Ohio State maintained a slight margin from the opening minute, giving it up once, but for a brief period only.

Four pivots under the basket and a long shot by Gee kept the Wolverines going throughout the second half to give Michigan a 26-26 tie with nine minutes to go. Two baskets, one on a long shot by Tippy Dye and the other under the basket on a dribble by Jim McDonald, with Thomas' free throw, gave the Buckeyes a 31-27 lead, but with little more than two minutes to play Herman Fishman dropped a long shot and Bill Barclay put through a foul shot.

With the score 31-30 again, them, the Wolverines settled down to the drive which had won them their three straight conference victories, but it was McDonald who scored to give the Buckeyes a lead which could have won the game.

McDonald Sparks Spurt

A flash by Michigan almost erased that lead a few seconds later as Barclay took the ball under the basket on a mad pass from Townsend in the midst of a pile-up at the foul circle. It was the Wolverines' last bid, for the Scarlet stole the tip-off twice as Jim McDonald, sparking the Buckeye offense after Captain Dye had been expelled on fouls, got in front of the Michigan forwards waiting for the tip from Gee. On the first he got the ball to Thomas for an easy shot at the foul line and with little more than ten seconds to play passed to Radebaugh, who found the hoop on a long shot from the side.

The Buckeye win put them up as a title contender in third place with three wins and a single loss while Michigan was dropped to fifth place with three wins and two losses.

SCARLET LEADING AT HALF

Victory Places Buckeyes
In Tie for Second
With Purdue.

By EMERSON DAVIS,
State Journal Sports Writer.

OHIO STATE'S basket ball quintet jumped into a tie for second place with Purdue in the Big Ten standings last night at the Fairgrounds Coliseum, by scoring a 19-16 victory over a weak, but stubborn Chicago quintet, which has lost seven games in as many starts in the Big Ten this season.

The Bucks started off with a rush, Jimmy Hull making good on a brace of free throws and counting a fielder. Amundsen of Chicago dropped in a charity toss, but it was not until 11 minutes in the first half had elapsed before Peterson came through with the initial Chicago basket. Amundsen sank a long shot, just as the period was completed to give the visitors a total of five points.

BUCKS ARE WILD.

Ohio, in the first half, was way off form in shooting, Hull and Thomas with two each accounting for the only Scarlet buckets.

The second half opened with the Bucks holding a 13 to 5 edge.

Radabaugh swished a fielder through the net to put the Bucks in front 15 to 5 soon after the start of the second canto, but for the next few minutes it was "all-Chicago" night as far as scoring points were concerned. They made good on six straight free throws, two by Rossin, two by Amundsen and one each by Cassels and Mullins. The barrage brought the Chicago count to 11, with Ohio still owning a total of 15.

MAROONS CREEP UP.

Capt. Tippy Dye of the home forces made good on a charity toss, but Freddy Mullins of the Maroons proceeded to throw a bomb of gloom into the Ohio camp with two straight fielders and the score stood, Ohio 16 and Chicago 15.

Jimmy Hull pulled the Scarlet out of what looked to be a bad spot when he tallied a bucket to give his team an 18 to 15 advantage. Egge-meyer of the Maroons made good a charity toss, which was soon matched by a Dye free throw.

The last two minutes of the game saw the Ohio lads doing their best passing of the game right in their own territory and refusing either to take a shot or let their foes get possession of the ball.

7800 SEE CONTEST.

Ohio State was fortunate they were playing a weak Chicago team last night rather than a fast breaking five like Purdue or Illinois.

Two of the Chicago players, Capt. Peterson and Rossin, substitute guard, were ejected from the game via the personal foul route.

A crowd of 7809 attended the game.

Ohio's next game is with Minnesota at Minneapolis Saturday night.

Ohio Five Loses To Gophers

Buckeyes Absorb 31-14
Setback in Second Meeting With Minnesota.

MINNEAPOLIS, MINN., FEB. 6.—Ohio State's dream of winning a share of the Big Ten basketball lead with Illinois ran into Minnesota's own cage ambitions here tonight. The result was a reversal of the previous game at Columbus. Minnesota won easily, 31 to 14.

The defense that has been the best in the league showed an improved record after the game while Minnesota's sophomore forward, Johnny Kundla, broke up the game in the second half.

Gophers Always Lead

The Gophers led from the start. They moved away to a lead at the opening. Tied halfway through the first period at 5 to 5. Again Minnesota moved ahead never to be tied.

It was 11 to 7 at the half and Ohio's hopes for a rally faded with the renewal of play when Kundla, held down before, suddenly found the range. His long field goal and a Gopher free throw made it 14 to 7 before Tippy Dye counted a long one for Ohio.

Ohio State's efforts to get going succeeded only in matching Minnesota points for the next moments and then, as time wore on, the Buckeye efforts left openings for Minnesota.

Kundla Gets Loose

The Gophers were quick to take advantage. It was chiefly Kundla, but later Addington and Rolek getting damaging points.

Ohio State suffered its worst breaks in the first half when Jim McDonald acquired three personal fouls early and was in danger of removal. He did go out five minutes after the intermission.

The Bucks were able to score only two of seven free throws and the six field goals were well divided. The Gophers counted 9 of 15 shots from the free throw line and their scoring featured Kundla's 12 points with six for Manley at center.

Dye and Raudabaugh were the Ohio State stars. Dye stopped Addington until late in the game in a pretty duel of little fellows. Raudabaugh was alert on Kundla, but the Gopher was too hot to be completely held in check.

High Scorer.

MADISON, Wis., Feb. 8.—
(P) — Wisconsin outscored Ohio State in the wild scramble of an overtime period tonight and won its second Conference game of the season, 35 to 33.

The Buckeyes, victors in a clash with the Badgers at Columbus a month ago, controlled the ball most of the five hectic minutes of the overtime, but missed a dozen hurried shots. The regulation game score was 30 to 30, James Hull, Ohio forward, tying it up in the last minute.

ROONEY CAGES LONG SHOT.

Gordon Fuller, forward, put Wisconsin ahead, 31 to 30, on a foul by Earl Thomas, guard, but Hull tipped in a goal to change the lead.
George Rooney, Badger forward, scored on a long shot and John Raudebaugh, guard, tied it up again on Fuller's foul. With about a minute of play remaining, Byron Bell, Wisconsin center, rolled in the deciding two points on a short hook shot.

Fuller failed to convert on a foul by Tom Baker, forward, as the gun sounded.

Ohio State led at the half, 13 to
9. Fuller and Mitchell of Wisconsin and Hull of Ohio State each made seven points to lead scoring.

Buckeyes Tied For Hi Place

Scarlet 48 to 44 Victory
Comes in Stirring Battle.

By Irven Scheibeck

A FOG bank which has shrouded Ohio State's collective scoring eye lifted for the first time this season Saturday night and the Buckeyes poured out a 48 to 44 victory over Indiana in a game which was a combination of the Kentucky derby and a high jumping contest.

For sheer unadulterated action, the game topped anything the coliseum has seen in recent campaigns. A turnout of 9257 fans, the second largest of the year, was treated to all the elements of a mystery thriller including the good old suspense motive.

Title Hope Revived

The victory accomplished a number of things for Harold Olsen's victorious cagers. It squared matters for a 43-36 setback they sustained at Indiana several weeks ago, it gave them a tie with their conquered adversaries for fifth place a game and a half out of the lead and kept alive a faint championship hope, which was sent to the ragged edge last week when the Bucks dropped decisions to both Minnesota and Wisconsin on a road trip.

The game was a battle of fast breaking offenses. Both the Bucks and Hoosiers raced pell mell up and down the floor at every opportunity. Both teams were "hot." Whatever advantage Indiana had rebounded was equalized by the dominance of the tip-off.

While Ohio led during the entire second half on margins as high as seven points at times, the outcome was in doubt almost until the final seconds. With three minutes to play for instance, the Hoosiers, paced by the sharp-shooting Etnire and aided by Gunning and Huffman, pulled to within one point of the Buckeyes at 42-41. However, Baker, who had gone on a four basket spree near the close of the half to give Ohio a lead it never relinquished, staved off the Hoosier rush by sinking two free throws after being fouled by Platt. Thomas then sank the points which afterwards proved to be the winning margin.

He broke loose when Indiana opened its defense in a futile attempt to gain control of the ball. Baker and Hull added free throws to make the Bucks safe against Indiana's last despairing bid which produced a basket by Johnson and a free throw by Gunning.

The victory was a costly one for the Buckeyes, as Center Earl Thomas who hit the net for 11 points, and played his outstanding game of the year, turned his ankle after scoring the decisive basket and had to be assisted from the floor. Extent of the injury was not immediately determined but the member was badly swollen.

Baker on Rampage

It is difficult to single out any Buckeye for particular praise. Baker led Ohio in scoring with 13 points, eight of which came in rapid succession late in the first half to convert a 22-19 Indiana lead into a 27-22 Buckeye edge, Dye adding another just before the intermission gun to make it 29-22.

Dye saw his guarding record go to pot when Ken Gunning broke loose for four baskets and two free throws, but countered with three baskets of his own and once more scintillated on the floor. Raudabaugh had his hands full with Etnire who led the Hoosiers with 13 tallies, but contributed heavily to Ohio's attack with his keen passing, while McDonald played his aggressive floor game before being relieved by Baker.

Etnire and Huffman were far and away the outstanding visitors. Etnire was "poison" on rebounds, and along with Huffman kept the visitors within striking distance all during the second half. Johnson, at guard, had his moments as did Gunning, who made the most of what few scoring opportunities Dye gave him.

Indiana's principal scoring medium was a fast break after rebound recoveries, the Hoosiers time and again sweeping down the floor without visible opposition. Ohio, on the other hand, was more adept at working the ball in close. Both teams scored 19 baskets, but Ohio picked up 10 free throws to six for the Hoosiers to account for their margin of victory.

The lead changed hands six times and was tied once during the first 20 minutes. The period of Indiana's greatest dominance came when the Hoosiers ran a 12-8 Buckeye lead to a 20-15 margin of their own on some sharp-shooting by Gunning and Johnson, but Thomas kept Ohio in the running with four fielders in a row until Baker went on his spree near the close of the half.

Ohio twice stretched its margin to seven points in the second half, but was never able to pull away to a safe edge until it was almost over.

Victory Is Sixth in Nine Games for Ohio Tossers.

By EMERSON DAVIS,
State Journal Sports Writer.

NORTHWESTERN tossed a big scare into Ohio State's car forces last night at the F.A. grounds Coliseum, but the Bucks closed fast to gain a 33-to-30 victory for their sixth win in nine starts. It was Northwestern's fifth defeat in seven games.

Thanks to one Mike McMichael, Northwestern enjoyed a 20-17 advantage at the half, Mike ringing the net for four buckets and making good on a brace of field goals. In the second half this same player, checked on every move by guards Jack Raudabaugh and Tippy Dye of the home forces, failed to get a single point.

BUCKS TAKE LEAD.

Augie George started at center for the Bucks in the place of Earl Thomas, the regular tipoff man who was suffering from a swollen ankle, injured in the Indiana game. Soon after the contest got under way Augie caged the initial Ohio fielder, but Thomas took his place after three minutes of play. After the George fielder, Raudabaugh matched the feat to give the Bucks a 4 to 0 advantage.

The visitors accounted for three straight free throws, but a Raudabaugh charity toss helped the Olsen me a 5 to 3 advantage. The sco. was soon tied and then Northwestern took a 7-5 lead. A Dye fielder put the score at 7-7, but from that point on the visitors maintained their lead.

PURPLE IN RALLY.

Voigts of Northwestern swished a long fielder to put his club in front 22 to 17, soon after the second canto started.

A free throw by Hull followed by a fielder by the same man, Dye's free throw and Baker's bucket, put the Bucks on top, 23 to 22. Currie of the visitors came through with a two-pointer and the Wildcats were back in the drivers seat, 24-23.

Hull of Ohio a minute later put the Bucks back in the saddle with a long toss, by Nagode (not Nogood) sank a fielder to tie the score at 26 all.

Ohio was never headed after counting seven points, while the 'cats were scoring only three.

McMichael with 10 markers was the high scorer of the contest, closely pressed by Hull who tallied nine points.

Buckeyes Weaken At Finish

Buckeyes, Leading at Half, Unable to Keep Pace With Wolves.

By Irven Scheibeck

OHIO STATE collapsed like a toy balloon bumping into a lighted cigar in the fairgrounds coliseum Saturday night and went down to a crushing 38 to 24 defeat at the hands of Michigan after enjoying an 18-11 lead at the half.

A crowd of 8307 spectators went into ecstasies at the start of the second half when the buckeyes increased their lead to 22-11, but from this point on they looked in open mouthed amazement as the Wolves first fought their way back into the ball game, then pulled into the lead and finally turned what had been an exciting ball game into an utter rout.

After taking their 22-11 lead, Ohio scored only two more points while Michigan was scoring 27.

The victory enabled Michigan to continue in the white hot battle for the Big Ten championship with Illinois and Minnesota and enabled the visitors to square accounts for a 37 to 32 victory the Bucks registered at Ann Arbor earlier in the season.

Fishman Real Star

While John Gee, Michigan's six foot nine, inch center, and John Townsend, six foot four-inch forward, were the heavy gunners in the Wolverines' second half with their devastating pivot shots and rebounds, the real stars of the invaders was Herman Fishman, scrappy Wolverine guard, who kept the Wolves in the battle with his splendid floor play.

Townsend and Gee did not make their presence felt until the Buckeyes were so exhausted that they had nothing left with which to combat their superior height.

Ohio dominated the first half and the early portion of the second by sheer fight and determination which for a time promised to offset Michigan's marked height advantage.

But, when Captain Tippy Dye injured his ailing foot late in the game and when Thomas and Hull had to let up in their strenuous efforts to keep the scales balanced, Ohio faded rapidly.

Raudabaugh and McDonald played smashing floor games for Ohio. McDonald did a good job at breaking up Gee's pivot maneuvers, while Raudabaugh was the only man in the starting lineup of either team who won the entire route.

Dye guarded Barclay, Fishman and Edmund Thomas at intervals during the evening and despite the handicap of a bad leg, he yielded only two baskets, both by the alert Fishman, one of the cleverest feint-and-dribble men to show on the Coliseum floor this season.

Hull at His Best

Hull, who shot the Buckeyes into the lead midway of the first half when he caged his only three baskets of the evening, played his best ball of the season.

Thomas also played well until he tired, contributing nine points to lead the Bucks in scoring.

The setback closed Ohio State's conference season with a record of seven wins and five defeats. It was Michigan's eighth victory in 10 conference engagements and their fifth in a row since the earlier loss at the hands of the Scarlet five.

Things looked bad for the Bucks at the outset when the Wolves went into a four-point lead on two free throws by Townsend and a basket by Patanelli. Then, after Thomas had counted a free throw and a basket for Ohio on a pivot, the Wolves ran their lead to 8 to 3 on goals by Townsend and Gee, who took advantage of their size to arch one-handed pivot shots into the net.

The Bucks came bouncing back in a hurry. McDonald retrieved a rebound and caged it, after which Hull hit a bull's eye from the side to make it 8-7. Michigan took time out, but as soon as hostilities were renewed Hull went into action again, canning a rebound with a burst of speed which carried him into the clear for a set shot. This gave Ohio the lead for the first time.

Hull Connects Again

After McDonald had made from charity lane, Hull smashed home another long one to make 12-8. Gee temporarily halted Ohio stampede with a successful pivot shot, but Thomas returned the compliment a second time. Gee scored on a free throw, McDonald was under the basket to pop in another rebound, made it 16-11 and with about half minute of the half remaining Thomas connected for his basket from far out in the key to give the Bucks an 18-11 margin when they retired to talk it over.

Baskets by Raudabaugh and Thomas started the second half but the Bucks then went into reverse while Michigan crept to 18 points on free throws by Patanelli and Fishman and a pair of rebounds by Townsend. Raudabaugh contributed a free throw to make it 23-18, but Edmund Thomas' basket following charity flip left Michigan but points in arrears. Dye scored Ohio's last point to make it 25-18 but Fishman's dribble-in shot Townsend's pivot basket Michigan to the front and then on it was just too bad.

Ohio had nothing left to meet Michigan's growing power and at the finish the floor was cluttered with substitutes.

One of these, Dan Smick, Michigan forward, contributed a discordant note to the proceedings when he landed two punches to Jim McDonald's chin in a mixup under the Michigan basket. He was promptly ejected from the game to the accompaniment of a round of bows from what was left of the crowd at this point.

The attendance boosted season's total to 50,434 for the home Big Ten games, the largest number an Ohio State team has attracted to the fair grounds since the record-breaking turnout of 53,006 which saw the 1925 championship team play the same number of contests.
