MARIETTA, O., Dec. 7.—
(P)—Ohio State University's basket ball machine opened its season tonight by edging out Marietta College, 29 to 23.

Trailing, 6 to 14, at halftime, the Pioneers put on a strong rally and thrice pulled within one point of matching the Bucks at the 17, 19 and 21-point stages.

STAFFORD BIG HELP

Bob Stafford, substitute forward, kept the Scarlet in the running by ringing up five points, and with five minutes remaining, Ohio increased its lead and was never threatened.

With Jimmy Hull in the driver's seat the Buckeyes started to roll early in the game. Marietta's early 3-2 lead vanished when Hull looped in four fielders and a foul toss within six minutes to send Ohio State out in front, 13-3.

All except one were close shots off fast breaks into the net. The only other Buckeye to score from the field in this period was Boughner.

Marietta started the final half with a burst of speed and counted eight points in less than four minutes to reduce Ohio's lead to 16-14. Nesha paced the brief spurt with a pair of buckets under the net. Whiting later went to the foul line, counted twice and Ohio State held but a slender one-point advantage.

BOTH OFF FORM

Capt. Jim McDonald, who had been only a spectator up to this time, went into the fray, and later aided the Buckeye cause with a looping fielder from the side.

It was Stafford's sharpshooting that helped pull Ohio State out of the hole in closing minutes. His first of a trio of buckets helped his mates to a 21-18 lead and again at 23-20, then Baker and Hull came through with the clinching fielders.

Both teams couldn't hit the side of a barn with the door closed. Marietta suffered heavily on this account and Ohio State missed its share.

HULL IS STAR ON 6 GOALS

By Irven Scheibeck

OHIO STATE gained unexpected revenge for a defeat of last winter, Saturday night, when the Buckeyes turned on the speed valves and raced up and down the coliseum floor to a 42 to 31 victory over Nebraska's Cornhuskers.

The victory was as decisive as it was unexpected. Ohio State handled the ball better than its scrapping visitors, dominated rebounds on both ends of the floor, in spite of the fact that their adversaries averaged approximately six feet two inches in altitude and showed a collective set of keener shooting eyes.

Only in the early skirmishing did the Bucks look the least bit off form. In the first five minutes of play they dabbled frequent basket opportunities, but so completely did they dominate the floor proceedings that even at this point the outcome of the game was almost a forgone conclusion.

Visitors are Slow

It was the first game of the season for the visitors, who tied Kansas for the Big Six championship last year, and this was clearly reflected in their play. The Nebraskans were slow in getting their plays organized, handled the ball poorly and could seldom work it in for set shots. When they attempted to utilize their height by popping away on long shots and then driving in for rebounds, Ohio met this challenge.

Bill Sattler, six foot, six inch Buckeye sophomore, ruined the visitors' efforts along these lines in the first half until he accumulated three personal fouls. Thereafter McDonald and Boughner were the most active in snaring the rebounds. McDonald, incidentally, played all but five minutes of the game and was more effective than he has ever been in a Buckeye uniform.

Late in the game the Huskers approached to within six points of the Bucks at 37-31, but the Scarlet tightened in the last two minutes and held the visitors at bay while Baker and Hull were ringing up the concluding tallies.

Jimmy Hull once more led the Buckeye attack, crashing through with 14 points on six baskets and two free throws. Dick Baker, who was off form from a point making standpoint in the opening game with Marietta Tuesday, weighed in with nine points and made a smooth working running mate for Hull, while Boughner, who with McDonald, set Ohio's fast breaking attack in motion, not only sparkled defensively but found time to rack up eight points on his own account.

Huskers Lead Twice

For the visitors, Floyd Ebaugh, at center, was the most efficient floor player. Although Alton Werner, forward, led the Huskers in scoring with three baskets, he led the visitors spurt which pulled them to within three points of the Buckeyes shortly after the start of the second half, but with the score at 22-19, Hull and Baker went into action and soon had the Buckeyes back into a commanding lead.

Nebraska led only twice. They got away on top when Grimm sank a free throw to inaugurate the scoring and pulled into a 6-5 lead at the 10-minute mark on baskets by Werner and Parsons, the first of these not coming until eight minutes of play had elapsed. However, the Buckeyes quickly went back to the front on goals by Hull and Sattler and finished the half on the long end of a 21-15 score.

McDonald opened the second half with a free throw and it looked like a ball game for a few minutes when Werner slipped in for two baskets, but Hull and Baker ran Ohio's total up to 30 in less time than it takes to tell it and the Buckeyes were practically "in."

The game attracted a crowd of 5442, including approximately 750 high school and college coaches and officials, who attended the annual Buckeye basketball "clinic" in the afternoon.

It was the first collegiate game played here under the new rule eliminating the center jump and the general observation was that the new rule tended to speed up the game considerably. Other rule changes, involving several new interpretations, had no visible effect on the conduct of the contest.

DICK BAKER IS TOP SCORER AS BUCKS GARNER THIRD WIN

By EMERSON DAVIS, State Journal Sports Writer

OUR Bucks of the hardcourt continued to sail through victory channels last night at the Fairgrounds Coliseum by gaining a 31 to 17 triumph over Creighton University before a small crowd of 2874.

In two previous contests the Bucks have mastered Marietta College and Nebraska University.

15 BUCKS SEE ACTION

Each Harold G. Olsen used 15 minutes in last night's game, six of them sophomores, but the visiting Bluejay quintet only scored six buckets.

Dick Baker, who was top scorer with eight points, dropped in two long shots soon after play started and the Bucks continued to keep the lead during the remainder of the game.

Creighton did not score a point until five minutes had elapsed, when Kittleson made good on a free throw. Their first basket was tallied by the same player after nine minutes of action.

NEW TEAM GOES IN

The Bucks' starting lineup was composed of Baker and Jimmy Hull, at forwards; Bill Cattler, center and Capt. Jim McDonald and Dick Boughner at guards.

After 10 minutes of play in the first half, Olsen trotted out a whole new team, while the first stringers saw action in only the first seven minutes of the second period.

Only Bob Lynch and Bob Stafford of the Scarlet replacements were able to tally point, the former sinking a trio of fielders while Stafford contributed one bucket.

Dick Shaw was the outstanding player of the invading quintet and was the only performer on either squad to play the entire contest.

U. OF CALIFORNIA NEXT

The game was cleanly contested, only 14 personal fouls being called, four against Creighton and 10 against the Bucks. Ohio made good on but one of five chances from the free throw line, while Creighton scored on five of the 11 opportunities.

Wednesday night the Bucks play host to the University of California, at the Coliseum, while on Saturday they will be in Baltimore, Md. to engage Baltimore University.

SCARLET IN FIRST SETBACK

Jimmy Hull of Ohioans
Tops Scorers With
14 Points

By EMERSON DAVIS,
State Journal Sports Writer

OHIO STATE was forced to taste the bitter dregs of defeat, 34-27, for the first time of the season, at the hands of a superior California basket ball squad at the Fairgrounds Coliseum last night before a crowd of 3835.

Previous to the defeat the Bucks had taken Marietta, Nebraska and Creighton in stride.

BEARS SLOW STARTERS

The pain of the setback was somewhat eased by the sensational basket shooting of Jimmy Hull, and the excellent guarding and floor play of Captain Jim McDonald.

Hull led both teams in scoring, ringing the net with seven fielders and playing the entire 40 minutes. McDonald was relieved of duty just a few minutes before the final gun cracked.

The California attack led by Center Captain "Chet" Carlisle did not start clicking until after 10 minutes of play in the first half.

At this stage of the game Ohio was out in front 8 to 0, thanks to a trio of field goals by Hull and two free throws tossed in by Center Bill Sattler.

VISITORS TAKE LEAD

Chalmers dropped in a bucket and Carlisle duplicated his feat, with a doughty fielder bringing the Bears' count to 6. Baker of Ohio made good on a charity toss, but Garetson matched this a minute later. Carlisle dropped in another free throw and then two fielders to put the Bears out in front, 13 to 9. Hull rung the net as the half ended, with the visitors holding a 13 to 11 advantage.

Carlisle swung into action shortly after the second half opened with a bucket that made the score, California, 15; Ohio, 11.

Bob Schick and Dick Baker both took advantage of free throws and then Hull crashed through with a bucket to tie the count at 15 all. The Bucks went in front with 17 points a few minutes later when Schick heaved one from near the center of the floor, only to have Carlisle come through to again tie the count.

Chalmers of the Bears bounced in a neat shot and the Bears were out in front, never to be headed.

However, the Bucks didn't quit and it was a rough and tumble battle until the end.

Both teams were off their shooting form, California having its difficulties in this respect during the early part of the battle while the Bucks faltered most in the last half.

Loose ball handling and interception of passes helped keep action fast and furious at all times.

Baltimore Defeated By Bucks

BALTIMORE, MD., JAN. 1.—

Ohio State university conquered the University of Baltimore, 53 to 37, in the feature game of a basketball triple-header that drew a holiday crowd of 4500 to the Fifth Regiment armory to-night.

The Buckeyes played smooth, alert basketball to win almost as they pleased from a team of "Bees" that kept trying but simply lacked the weapons to cope with the Big Ten opponent. Ohio State ran up a lead of 10 points at half time, 27 to 17, and held carefully to its pace in the second period, widening the margin just a little in the latter part of the tussle. The visitors used two full teams and one extra, while Baltimore, far inferior in reserve strength, relied upon seven players for the bulk of the combat.

Scoring honors went to Jimmy Hull, whose five field goals all were scored in the second half, and Bill Sattler, whose 6 feet 6½ inches of height stood him in good stead as he collected four field goals and a foul.

Ohio State smoother, better balanced and keener in marksmanship pulled away to a 10-point lead in the first half. Baltimore clung within range through the first 10 minutes of play, and in fact managed to get the lead at 14 to 13.

BUCKS ARE SECOND BIG 10 TEAM TAKEN BY COLONIAL FIVE

Scarlet Tossers Lose Many Shots Through Faulty Timing

WASHINGTON, Jan. 3.
—George Washington University beat Ohio State in basket ball here tonight, 46 to 35. The Capital quintet—victor last week over Minnesota—completely mastered its second Big Ten foe of the season.

Leading Ohio State by 20 points
early in the second half, George Washington put in four second stringers and the visitors were then able to narrow the lead 44 to 33.
Tonight's win was George Washington's fourth against no defeats.

NEVER HARD PRESSED

The Colonials had defeated Baltimore, Tennessee and Minnesota, never being really hard pressed this season.

Lanky Jack Butterworth, George Washington's center, was the game's high scorer with 16 points.
Two points behind was Capt.
Tommy O'Brien.

Pacing the losers were Schick and Sattler with nine and eight points respectively.

The Buckeyes consistently fell victim to George Washington's shifty attack. When the Colonials were guarded in close, they flipped long baskets from every angle and when the Ohioans went back,
George Washington broke in.

BUCKS OFF FORM

Closely guarded Ohio State missed many shots under the basket on faulty timing.

Tonight's loss was the second in six games for Ohio State. They dropped their other to California.

Play throughout the game was rough and Ohio State's fleet-footed Baker went out in the final minutes on four personal fouls and McDonald had three as the game ended.

Wildcats, 35-34 Win Jolts Scarlet Hope

By PAUL HORNING
Lantern Sports Editor

Coach Harold G. Olsen's touring cagers jumped from the frying pan into the fire today in search of an initial Big Ten win. The frying pan episode netted the Bucks a 35-34 defeat at Northwestern Saturday night. The fire scene goes on at 7:30 tonight, Ferry Field, Ann Arbor, with the Wolverines of Michigan sharing title role.

Just how serious the jump may be hinges on the condition of the Scarlet, and the par of Frank Cappon's outfit. While the Bucks were taking a licking, Michigan was chalking up a 45-37 victory over Illinois' half of league co-championship, in a affair that proved Wolverine strength to a great advantage. In the warmup season, the Wolves won six games, lost none.

Big Threat . . .

Captain Jake Townsend will present problem one for the Scarlet defensive works. The 6-foot 4-inch whizzer is a demon on speed in spite of his 200 pounds, and handles the ball in a style which has rated him all-Conference honors two years in a row. He scored 15 points against Illinois at the left forward spot.

Townsend's running mate will be Ed Thomas or Bill Barclay. The former giant is speedy and a fair shot. The latter is, also, a fast charging lad, with better than average shooting ability. His record against Illinois was 10 points in last year's season. They believe represent the Government in Shintoism that they are steeped in Shintoism that they are starting lineup of Baker, Hull, Sattler, McDonald and Boughner. The team was in good physical shape except for a few minor bruises and burns, but its spirit took a severe jolt in the Wildcat lair. Its chances of smashing the Wolverine were not very great.

After leading the Northwestern five, 15-14 at half time, the Scarlet matched opposition points to a 30-30 deadlock with more than half of the last session gone. Dick Baker then tossed in a looper from the left corner of the floor, and repeated with a long one from way out to send the Bucks leading 34-30.

That's All . . .

Jim Currie, Northwestern guard, dumped in a felder from the center of the court with but three minutes of the game to play. His mate Bernie Davis eluded his man to successfully flip a set-up shot to knot the count again 34-all. Ad Vance added the margin of victory on a free toss, after being fouled by Johnny Schick, Buck reserve center.

Dick Baker led the Scarlet scoring with nine points, including three baskets and three charity throws. Hull and Schick each racked up 6 points. Jake Nagone, Purple center, led the evening parade with 13 markers.

The Bucks, and company, will return from Ann Arbor late tonight after the game, and take up practice duties Tuesday night.

SCARLET IN LEAD AT HALF

Hull and Schick Lead
Ohio Scorers With
8 Points Each

ANN ARBOR, Mich., Jan. 10. — (AP) — Michigan strengthened its Big Ten basketball championship bid tonight by overpowering Ohio State, 38 to 28, in a last half rally for a second straight Conference victory.

The rough and tumble battle, from which two men were ejected for personal fouls, found the Wolverines coming from behind a 20-18 half time score virtually to romp in with the triumph on a sharp offensive and powerful defense.

Michigan ran into a 25-24 lead, climaxed by Herm Fishman's one-hand shot from the side of the court, shortly after the second period opened and then drew steadily away. Rae, Wolverine center, topped the scoring with 11 points, Fishman following with 10 and John Townsend, Michigan forward, with nine.

At one time in the first half the Ohioans had a 7-1 lead. Forwards Jim Hull and John Schick were Ohio State's high scorers with eight points each.

Olsenmen Record Initial Big 10 Win After Two Losses

By BOB DUNN

Two basketball players whom Coach Harold G. Olsen had threatened to replace in the Buck lineup after the squad had taken two straight Conference beatings probably have recaptured regular starting berths as the result of excellent playing last Saturday in the victory over Iowa, 48 to 29.

The reference is to Dick Baker, forward, and Dick Boughner, guard. Coach Olsen had been fretting over the lack of scoring punch in games the Bucks lost to Michigan and Northwestern, and early last week Olsen had about decided to substitute two sophomores in their places.

But apparently Baker and Boughner had different ideas. In practices during the latter part of the week their performances won them starting positions against Iowa. Then both proceeded to prove themselves deserving of places on the first team. Show Scoring Punch.

As the Bucks flashed a strong offense and a better-than-average defense, Boughner dropped 10 points through the nets and Baker tallied nine.

Dependable Jim Hull played his usual fine game and was tied with Boughner for high-point honors. Captain Jim McDonald, too, played an important role in the somewhat surprising one-sided victory over Iowa's Hawkeyes, previous conquerors of Indiana. Usually a low scorer, McDonald had his eyes focused on the basket Saturday and swished three field goals and a foul, besides laying a bang-up defensive game.

Lead All The Way

From the beginning of the fray the Bucks clicked. Hull sank a couple of sparkling one-handers in the opening minutes to start the Olsen-men off. But half-time the margin lengthened to 20-13.

A few substitutes saw action for the Scarlet in the first half, and with the game cinched late in the second half several sophomores got chances to show ability. Johnny Schick, Bob Lynch, Stan Goletz and Stafford all played well.

Schick Shows Ability

Schick especially looks like a corner. He's tall and accurate in his shooting. Two baskets he recorded were difficult one-handers. Olsen will use him either at center or forward, according to where need develops.

Sattler, playing center most of the game and taking care of the pivot play for the Scarlet, demonstrated that he has rid himself of much of the awkwardness which marred his play earlier in the season. Six-foot-six, Sattler is valuable in snagging rebounds off the back-boards.

The Hawkeyes' ace forward, Stephens, who recently broke an all-time Iowa scoring record for one game, was limited to one field goal but seven successful foul shots boosted his total to nine points.

Buck Cagers Wallop Illini

By Irven Scheibeck

OHIO STATE'S basketball team wrote a new chapter in the history of Buckeye-Illinois cage relationships before 6145 howling spectators in the fairgrounds coliseum Saturday night by walloping the Illini, 46 to 26. It was the most decisive victory an Ohio quintet ever has scored over an adversary from Champaign.

Led by Jimmy Hull, Ohio State's leading scorer for the season, who piled up 16 points in spite of the fact that he left the game seven minutes before its conclusion, the Buckeyes never were headed.

They not only exhibited deadly accuracy from the floor but played air-tight defensive ball. "Pick" Dehner, Illinois center, who had scored 90 points in five previous games, was held to two baskets and three fouls, being guarded in turn by Bill Sattler, John Schick and finally Stanley Goletz when both the regular Buckeye centers were compelled to leave the game via the personal foul route.

Neither Sattler nor Schick allowed Dehner to get loose for the deadly set shots which marked his previous play and Captain Jim McDonald of the Bucks did his part by curbing the activities of Louis Boudreau, Dehner's best feeder. Boudreau himself was stopped with Jimmy Hull but a single basket while Hapac, the other forward, who drew the leech-like Dick Boughner as his shadow, came up with but two baskets.

Next to Hull, Baker was the most effective Ohio point-maker, contributing 11 points to the cause. In addition to his fine guarding game, Boughner found time to slip in three field goals.

There was seldom any doubt as to the outcome of the game. The Bucks bounded into a 6 to 0 lead at the outset on baskets by Hull and Baker and free throws by both.

Bucks Pile Up Lead

Captain Boudreau gave Illinois its first points with a long shot, after which Dehner caged a charity and Kapac a basket, but in the meantime Hull Boughner and Sattler were all connecting to give the Bucks a 13-5 edge when Illinois called time out at the 10-minute mark.

When hostilities were renewed the Bucks turned the heat on again, every man on the team except Schick, who relieved Sattler, contributing at least one basket for the remainder of the half. Dehner's only goal of the half came when he slipped away from Sattler and scored on a set shot.

Subs Get Chance

The Bucks continued to pile up their margin in the second half until, with a 42-16 lead, Coach Olsen flooded the floor with substitutes, using practically every man on the bench before the final gun ended hostilities.

The Bucks were simply too "hot" for the Illini from the floor and cashed in heavily on both medium and follow up shots. While they didn't work the ball up for many close-in attempts, the Bucks invariably had good position before they let fly with the ball, eluding the Illini guards to make most of their attempts unmolested.

Furthermore, they were tremendously effective on rebounds, converting most of their own attempts on "follow" shots and grabbing a high percentage of Illinois efforts which went astray.

The Buckeyes, collectively, gave the best performance they have dished out all year, particularly on attack, unofficial figures indicated they made almost 40 per cent of their shots. The Illini had precious few opportunities from the floor and those they did have were hurried.

The victory was Ohio's second in four Big Ten starts and the defeat marked Illinois' fourth setback in six Big Ten engagements.

SCARLET RALLY IS CHECKED

Capt. Townsend Tops
Scorers With 12
Points

By EMERSON DAVIS,
State Journal Sports Writer

TAVING off a second-half drive, Michigan rode to victory over a fighting Ohio State quintet, 29 to 26, before a crowd of 5715, at the Fairgrounds Coliseum last night.

The triumph, which was the fourth in five starts, put the Wolves in second place, just one-half game behind Northwestern, the Big Ten pace-setters.

BUCKS TIE FOR SIXTH

Ohio dropped into a tie for sixth place with Indiana, each having lost three games while winning two.

John Townsend, Michigan's captain and leading scorer, paced his team to victory by recording 12 points, nosing out Jimmy Hull and Dick Boughner of the Bucks, who tallied 10 each.

The Wolves' offense started clicking shortly after the half-way mark in the opening period and they finished the first half owning a 17 to 14 advantage.

A few minutes after the second stanza got under way two fielders by Edward Thomas and one by Jim Rae ran the Wolves' edge to nine points, after which they were er headed, although the Bucks ght their hearts out trying to overtake them.

OHIOANS IN RALLY

After Thomas had dropped in his second fielder, John Schick, replacement center for Bill Sattler, swished the net to give the Bucks a total of 16 points, seven less than Michigan. Leo Beebe of the visitors flashed through the Ohio defense for a two-pointer, but Dick Baker, scoring his only field goal of the evening, matched the Beebe toss. Beebe dropped in another and with 11 minutes to go Michigan was leading, 27 to 18, and appeared to be in.

Three nifty fielders by Hull and one by Boughner brought the Bucks back in the ball game, but as the time had faded to just two minutes to play, Townsend dropped in his fifth and final bucket of the contest.

SCORE IS KNOTTED

Michigan stalled through the remainder of the game in a successful way.

Michigan took the lead with a Rae fielder just after the game got under way, but two charity tosses oy Baker, a brace of buckets by Boughner and one by Hull put the Bucks on in front, 8 to 2. Then Townsend, capably aided by Rae and Charles Pink, came through with enough points to tie the score at 14-all, during which time Hull had tallied two goals and Boughner one.

Jim McDonald, assigned the tough task of guarding Townsend, was charged with three fouls before 15 minutes had elapsed in the first half, during which time he had held the lanky Michigan ace to three goals. With three minutes to go in the first half, McDonald left the game and Townsend chalked up his fourth bucket.

WOLVES REALLY CLICK

McDonald returned to the game at the start of the second stanza and while handicapped by being just one foul from being thrown out of the game, held Townsend to one bucket in the final period.

Michigan throughout the game held an edge over the Bucks in ball handling, short shots and taking th ball on the rebounds. The majority of the Scarlet tosses were of the long-distance variety, due, of course, to the tight guarding of their opponents.

TOLEDO, O., Jan. 31.—
(P)—The University of Toledo basket ball team scored its second victory of the season over a Big Ten opponent
when they handed Ohio State University a 54 to 45 setback here tonight.

A record crowd of 7100 saw the Rockets take the lead midway in the first half and retain it throughout the remainder of the fast, rough battle. The Rockets led at the half 28 to 23.

BAKER HIGH SCORER

Charles Chuckovits, forward ace of the Rockets scored 22 points, enabling the Toledoans to jump into the lead with a fielder that gave Toledo a 13 to 11 margin after the count had been deadlocked four times.

Dick Baker, Buckeye forward, accounted for 25 of his team's points. The Bucks were weakened by loss of Forward Jim Hull and Guard Jim McDonald on personal fouls. The rockets previously had beaten Iowa and lost to Michigan in engagements against Western Conference foes.

Visitors Lead by 23-14
At Halftime as 4489 Watch

WITH elongated Johnny Schick taking scoring honors and with determined Dick Boughner bottling up the visitors' attack nearly single handed, Ohio State administered a 47 to 40 spanking to Ohio University's Bobcats at the Fairgrounds Coliseum last night before 4489 witnesses.

Schick, coming out of comparative retirement, tallied 13 points on five fielders and three free throws before being removed from the game late in the final half. Boughner, entering the contest in the last stanza, broke up more Bobcat plays than the Bobcats would care to have told. His individual defensive work prevented many possible buckets for the visitors.

BOBCATS LEAD AT HALF

Coach Harold G. Olsen elected to start a team composed of but one regular, Dick Baker, and Bob Stafford at forwards, Schick at center, and Bob Lynch and Don Prewitt at guards.

This team gave a good account of itself while playing and managed to hold the Bobcats to a 23-14 lead at half time. Two of the varsity, Capt. Jim McDonald and Jimmy Hull made their appearances late in the opening half while Boughner, as before told, did not enter until the second chapter was under way.

BUCKS START CLICKING

Thanks to the fine efforts of Gene Rinta, the 'Cats took the lead after Ohio State had run the score to 8 to 2. Johnny tossed in several pot shots and a nice looper which tied the count at 10 all. Fred Peoples, sub center, and Nick Lalich abetted Rinta to the extent of adding nine points between them which were responsible for the Athenians' first-half lead.

With his full varsity starting the second half, Olsen watched the effect of his between-the-halves pep talk take effect as first Hull, then Boughner, then Hull again hit the net with a regularity which sent the Bucks ahead of Butch Grover's boys at the 28-27 mark.

LEAD IS INCREASED

Ohio State led from that point on in, increasing its lead until the final few minutes when Lalich escaped the over-anxious personage of McDonald for four successive points which were the last for the Green and White.

The versatile performance displayed by Lalich, Rinta and Johnn Malokas defied the best efforts of the Bucks to halt them and it was not until Boughner with his one-man defense entered the contest that these worthies were squelched and then only partially.

17 CHEER LEADERS!

Along with Schick and Boughner, the performances of Hull, who scored 11 points during the evening, and Dick Baker, who accounted for 10, were especially pleasing to Buck rooters whose rooting was led by a special corps of 17 cheer leaders.

Ben Stephens and Nile Kinnick Lead Old Gold in Rough Game; Iowa Slides Down in Standings

Buckeyes out in Front By 27-26 Margin At Halftime

By G. K. HODENFIELD
Daily Iowan Sports Editor

Ohio State's crimson cagers staged a brilliant last-half rally to knock the Iowa Hawkeyes from their fifth place standing in the Big 10 last night, 51-43, before nearly 9,000 fans in the Iowa field-house.

The game, the roughest and steepest on the Iowa floor this year, saw 31 fouls, 18 on Iowa, called by the officials. The Buckeyes took advantage of the Iowa miscues and chalked up 13 free throws to establish their margin of victory.

Blazing Benny Stephens and Nile Kinnick set the pace for the Iowans as they scored 33 points between them. Stephens pushed in eight field goals and two free throws for 18 points and Kinnick flipped in seven field goals and one charity toss for 15.

Nip and Tuck

The game was nip and tuck all the way until the last two minutes of the game. At the half the Buckeyes led by the smallest of margins, 27-26. The two teams were on even terms most of the second period and with only two minutes to go the score read 47 to 43 for the Buckeyes. Baughner and Prewitt counted on long shots at this point to ice the game for the visitors.

Kinnick put on a great one-man exhibition of the way baskets should be made in the first half as he poured in four straight buckets from all over the court to help bring the count to 19-all after the Ohio Staters had led, 16-9.

Iowa Scores First

The Hawkeyes broke the ice at the start of the game when Drees made a free throw on McDonald's miscue. He missed his second shot and Kinnick took the rebound in the corner and made a beautiful basket. A basket by Hull and charity tosses by Schick, Baker and Baughner put the Bucks ahead, however, and they were never headed except for a brief period in the initial stanza.

The loss of Drees, who went out on fouls early in the second half, seriously handicapped the Hawkeye attack and they never seemed to function just right after he left.

Bucks Grab Rebounds

Ball-hawking by the Buckeyes was the greatest factor in their victory-drive as they took the ball off both backboards time after time. Only Kenny Suesens seemed to be able to snare any great number of the rebounds for the battling, but out-battled, Hawks.

Hull, forward, was high point man for the Bucks as he swished seven field goals through the net for 14 points. Baker and Schick were close behind with 12 each. Baker made eight of his points on free throws.

Tomorrow night the Hawkeyes meet Minnesota's up and coming cagers at Minneapolis. The Gophers are tied with Iowa for sixth place in the conference standings.

MAROONS BEATEN AFTER GAME FIGHT; SCORE IS 36 TO 34

CHICAGO, Feb. 7.—(AP)—
A long basket by Capt. Jim McDonald with less than a minute of play brought Ohio State from behind tonight and permitted the Buckeyes to nose out Chicago, 36 to 34, in a Big Ten basket ball thriller.

Eight successive points by Chicago had sent the Maroons ahead, 34 to 33, with less than 50 seconds remaining when McDonald grabbed the ball and scored from far out.

Dick Boughner added a free throw that clinched victory when two more Maroon efforts failed.

The win put the Bucks in fourth place.

It was the fourth Conference victory for Ohio State against three defeats. For Chicago, the setback was its fifth in a row.

Jim Hull led the winning attack with 17 points.

Bucks Play Great Ball On Defense

By Irvn Scheibeck

BOUNCING back with an almost unbelievable comeback after trailing 21 to 12 at the half, Ohio State outshot, outfought and finally outsmarted Purdue to send the Boilermakers down to a 37 to 29 defeat in a spectacular Western Conference basketball game Saturday night in the fairgrounds coliseum.

The Bucks, who couldn't hit the inside of the building in the first half, at which Purdue showed to marked advantage, couldn't seem to miss in the final 20 minutes. It took them only seven minutes to go into the lead at 25 to 23, the Bucks rolling 13 points, through the hoop in this spurt while the Boilermakers were being held to a lone basket.

For a time, the Boilermakers hung doggedly on the Bucks trail, but in the final stages of the game Ohio gave a smart exhibition of alert, cagey basketball.

Some Smart Stalling

Playing deliberately near mid-court, the Bucks would stall just long enough for Purdue to desert its defensive posts and go after the ball, whereupon Baker or Boughner would streak into the basket for unmolested shots. Baker made the two goals which sent Ohio's score from 27-26 to 31-26 and then flipped home four free throws in as many tries to definitely sew up the ball game. Boughner's basket in the last 30 seconds was entirely superfluous.

It was Boughner who started the Bucks on their comeback in the second half. The sharp-shooting guard slammed home two long shots at the outset and sandwiching a free throw to put the Bucks back in the ball game. Hull then took up the scoring assignment with a free throw and a basket to pull the Bucks to within one point of Purdue at 21-20.

Anderson, the visitors' center, stemmed the tide momentarily with a rebound shot, one of Purdue's two second-half baskets, but this was a signal for John Schick and the Ohio pivot man was ready for the green light.

After Hull had caged a free throw, Schick flashed down the court, took a perfect pass from Baker and dashed in to tie the score. Seconds later he barged in and caged a rebound shot which put the Bucks out in front for good.

A free throw by Young was doubled by Hull, who caged two, but Purdue again crept to within a point on charities by Fisher and Zink before Baker broke loose for his point making exhibition, which put the contest in cold storage.

Schick Is Star

The play of Schick, Ohio's sophomore center, was a revelation. He had his troubles with Anderson in the first half, but in the final stanza he completely outplayed his Boilermaker adversary, showing to particular advantage on rebounds and floor play.

Boughner's floor game also was outstanding, notably in the final stages when his clever handling of the leather helped the Bucks protect their lead.

Hull and Baker shared scoring honors with 10 points apiece, while McDonald played a sterling guarding game, especially in the second half, when he stopped Jewell Young without a basket after the Boilermaker star had counted three fielders in the first half. He did it with three personal fouls hanging over his head, too.

Young wound up with only seven points, thereby losing ground in his efforts to corral a new conference record.

In the first half the Bucks were obviously puzzled by Purdue's fast charging defense, which forced them to shoot hurriedly. Even so, they missed at least 20 good shots in the last 10 minutes of the half while Purdue was running up its 21-12 lead.

Skirmishing in the first 10 minutes saw neither team showing to advantage. Ohio led in the opening minutes, first on McDonald's free throw, which was matched by Dickinson, and then on Schick's long shot. Sines matched this one and Anderson sent Purdue to the fore for the first time with a free throw and a basket.

Fielders by Sines, Young and Dickinson of Purdue, plus another free throw by Anderson, matched two Hull goals, one by Schick and another by Baker to give Purdue a 13-12 lead which they extended to 21-12 while Ohio was missing consistently.

Young started the spurt with two rebound shots and Anderson added a one hander and two free throws as the period ended.

The game, witnessed by 6,643 spectators, was Ohio's fifth conference victory in eight starts and Purdue's second defeat in seven.

It was also the Boilermaker's second setback in 14 starts for the season.

ILLINI BLAST BUCK PENNANT HOPES IN 42-34 GO SATURDAY

By PAUL HORNUMG
Lantern Sports Editor

New found pennant hopes withered in the blast of a 42-34 Illinois victory Saturday night, the Scarlet cage machine moves to Purdue tonight for what may be the straw to break the fourth place charm and send the Buckeyes down to fifth place.

One week and two nights ago the Boilermakers underwent a major demise at the Coliseum show place, when Olsen's brave and bold slipped through 25 points in the last half for a well-deserved win. This feature of the contest was bad enough, but worse the fact that Piggy Lambert's powered hoopers dropped into second place from a first place tie.

The title pass-out scene played at Illinois Saturday night, saw the vengeful Illini play steady hard basketball all through the game to ride out a win. At halftime, the score stood 22-15 in favor of the victors. They never were in grave danger except in the closing minutes of play when the Olsen men jumped up with in four spaces of their conquerors.

However, Boughner fouled Illini guard Phillips, who made good on two charity throws, and a bunny bucket by Handlon put the game on ice.

To begin the festivities, Illinois took the lead, but relinquished it for a brief time early in the period.

In victory, the Illini scored 16 field goals to 15 for the Bucks, but the Illini capitalized on foul opportunities. Both John Schick and Bill Hapac were ejected via that route. There were 17 called on Ohio State to 8 for the Illini.

Schick Stars . . .

Schick played a good game at center and led the attack with 10 points, followed by Hull for the Scarlet with 8. Pick Dehner, the Big Ten's leading scorer, did first rank service for the winners with 12, but Bill Hapac, sophomore forward, turned in a like number.

Hull dropped back in the Conference scoring race by his 8 point performance while Dehner was boosting his season total to 120, and Jewell Young was taking 12.

Following the game, the Scarlet tourists will embark for the home grounds. The next business on hand is a defense against Chicago in the Coliseum.

YOUNG'S SCORING FEATURE

Gets 20 Points; Hull
Lands 13; Purdue
Ties for Lead

LAFAYETTE, Ind., Feb. 21. — (AP) — Purdue's Boilermakers shot back into a tie with Northwestern for first place in the Big Ten basket ball race here tonight by crushing Ohio State, 49 to 36, while Northwestern was losing to Iowa.

Purdue's victory gave the Boilermakers revenge for the surprise defeat they suffered at the hands of Ohio State a few weeks ago.

YOUNG, SINES STAR

A capacity crowd of 8500 fans watched Jewel Young and Johnny Sines, Boilermaker forwards, run Ohio State ragged. Young, striving to retain his Big Ten individual scoring title, registered 20 points to make his total 40 for the last two games.

Sines scored 12 points and his passing, dribbling and defensive work was such that he didn't seem to be able to do anything wrong. Hull, Ohio State forward, was the spark plug of the Buck attack, scoring 13 points.

BUCKS THREATEN

Purdue never was headed after early in the first half, but Ohio State kept threatening until soon after the final period started. Leading 28 to 24, Purdue went on a scoring rampage to boost the count to 41 to 26 and then coasted in.

SCARLET CLIMBS IN RACE

Schick Leads Scorers;
Trenkle, Wildcat
Captain, Hurt

By EMERSON DAVIS,
State Journal Sports Writer

SWINGING into high gear in the last half to knot the score 33-35 as the regulation time was completed and then going on to take a 41-36 verdict over Northwestern at the Fairgrounds Coliseum last night, Ohio State's basket ball team took fourth place in the Big Ten standings.

Defeat for the Wildcats pushed them into third place, a full game back of Purdue and one-half game back of second place Minnesota.

BUCK FINISH STRONG

The Bucks, trailing at half-time 18 to 13, came back in the second half and battled the Wildcats all over the court.

Johnny Schick, sophomore center, led the Scarlet scoring with 12 points and caused the Wildcats plenty of trouble as he intercepted passes and blocked play after play.

It was Schick who put the Bucks out in front 22 to 20, after eight minutes in the second canto. He also came through with the bucket that tied the score at the end of regulation playing time, after Jimmy Hull had kept Ohio in the ball game with three sensational fielders, which had been matched by Mike McMichael and Walter Vance.

TRENKLE IS INJURED

In the overtime session Schick dropped in a bucket while Jim McDonald and Hull made good on charity throws and Baker dropped in two. A free throw by Jean Smith accounted for the lone Northwestern score.

McDonald and Smith were both forced out of action in the final period via the personal foul route.

Northwestern's chances in the last half were dealt a severe blow when its Capt. Fred Trenkle suffered a broken left arm as he crashed into Guard Bob Lynch while dribbling in for an under-the-bucket shot.

The rough and ready battling of both teams kept the crowd of 4876 in an uproar in the second half and the overtime period.

'CATS LEAD AT HALF

Two minutes after the game started Hull dropped in a fielder, which was quickly matched by another by Trenkle. Northwestern forged to the front as Jean Smith rung the hoop and from that point on they continued in the lead or on even terms with the Scarlet until Schick's long heave gave the Olsensmen a 13-11 edge with five minutes to go.

McMichael connected a minute latter to bring the teams on even terms. Two free throws by Voights coupled with a bucket and a charity toss by Smith gave the 'Cats their 18-13 halftime advantage.

Hull Turns In New Buck Point Total

By Irvn Scheibeck

JIMMY HULL set a new Ohio State season's individual scoring record by tallying 12 points for a 12-game count of 134 at the Fairgrounds coliseum, Saturday night, as the Buckeyes wound up their season with an easy 41-to-29 victory over Chicago.

Hull's record erased the former mark of 133, set by Johnny Miner, captain of Ohio State's first Big Ten championship team, in 1925, and his battle to reach the goal overshadowed the game itself. There was no doubt about who would win after the first five minutes when Ohio rolled up a 12-to-2 lead and the remainder of the contest was devoted almost exclusively to giving Hull the ball for shots at the basket.

Had Tough Time

And he had a tough time making it. Going into the second half, needing only four points, Hull was held without a semblance of a basket until the very last minute by Morris Rossin, clever Chicago guard. Finally he uncorked a pair of long shots to turn the trick. Rossin incidentally, piled up 15 points of his own and was just about the outstanding individual on the floor in either uniform.

Dick Baker, Hull's running mate, ran a scoring temperature in the first half when he connected for 13 points but in the last 20 minutes, he didn't get a basket and registered only one free throw.

Thanks to Rossin, Chicago made a ball game of it in the second half. The Buckeyes led 23 to 10 at the intermission by running rough shod over Chicago's zone defense but in the second half, Chicago went into a man-to-man style and outscored the home guard, 19 to 18. The game was far from a high-class exhibition of basketball, both teams passing wildly at times.

By virtue of the victory Ohio State wound up its Big Ten campaign with a record of seven victories and five defeats and clinched undisputed possession of fourth place in the conference race. The Maroons finished in the Big Ten basement for the fifth consecutive year, having a record of two victories and 10 setbacks.

In rolling up the victory, Ohio State also set a new Buckeye team scoring mark for the season, winding up with 458 points, compared to the previous record of 410, made by the 1935 team.

Attendance was 3501. Lineup:
