Fisher, who moved from his brilliant senior year in football to the basketball court, wasn't the whole show as Coach Harold G. Olsen's twentieth season rolled away to a successful start, but he certainly was No. 1 star.

Through the first half, Jim Van Orsdel, former Miami guard, stuck to the Columbiana Clipper like a Spitfire, holding him absolutely scoreless. But when the pressure was really on, when the Bucks needed points and a spark, it was Fisher in there like dependable old Frank Meriwell.

Sophs Help

Bud Wise, a sophomore with a keen basket eye and a kind of infectious spark that breeds greatness, certainly rates more than a word of praise for the victory, as should Jack Wilce, long and lean Upper Arlington product, whose only two baskets came just when they did most good for the Buckeye cause and most damage to the visiting Sailors.

Everything was all even at 14-14 at intermission. It looked like much more of a ball game as the rest period approached, because at one time mid-way in the half, the Sailors held a 7-2 margin. Up to that point, Freddie Miller's bucket was the only thing the Bucks could count.

Van Orsdel plunked in a swisher from the floor and again came Miller to dunk his second, making the margin 9-4. Captain Jack Graf pushed the leather through the net to build it to 9-6, and Bob Shaw connected with a free throw. Frankie Baumholtz, Ohio U. all-America who hadn't shown much in the way of a scoring punch up to there, netted his first to send the Sailors away 11-7.

Resume Lead

Shaw made good another free try and then came Wise for a very long and pretty fielder that pulled the Bucks to only a 11-10 disadvantage. Miller and Jack McLain, scored from the side to earn a 11-14 lead, the first for Ohio since Miller's first one had given 'em a 1-2 advantage.

However, Bob Calihan, former Detroit center sensation, dropped one, and Ernie Andres, ex-Indiana captain and Louisville Colonel third baseman, added the two points to tie at the gun.

Things certainly looked black for the Buckeyes in the first seven minutes after the halftime. In that time, their only scoring gesture was a good charity throw by McLain. Meanwhile, the Sailors were cashing in with seven, Calihan, Paul Anderson and the former Hoosier Bill Menke registering from the field and Andres from the foul line.

Then came Wise, Ohio City sophomore forward, with No. 1 blow to Great Lakes' hopes. His effort brought the score to 21-17, Fisher cut it to 21-18 and Wise nullified Andres' fielder with one of his own. Wilce tipped one through the hoop to pull the Bucks to 23-22.

Never Lose Lead

With 10 minutes on the clock, Calihan dunked another, but Wise matched it and Wilce followed for the second time to send the Bucks ahead, 26-25. They never lost that lead, although the Sailors came within one point.

Fisher followed Wilce with a goal and a free throw, but Menke and Baumholtz hit in rapid succession from the floor to threaten, 28-29. But that was really when Fisher let loose. He dropped three through the hoop before the Sailors could batten down the hatches and the ball game was "on ice," 35-28. Menke connected twice and Dick Klein of Northwestern once, but Fisher helped hold the lead with a push-in bucket and Sophomore Francis Fisher, Cleveland (no relation to Dick), rushed in with his first bucket. And there's just where it ended.

4x—Bucks Sink

Fisher led the scoring for both teams with his 11 points, all in the last 13 minutes, and Wise ran a good second with eight. Menke paced the Sailors with seven, while Midvale's little miracle, Baumholtz, bagged six.

Fisher Pleases

Dick Fisher, of course, broke loose to serve notice he's in for another, possibly his best year. Last season, he placed third in Big Ten scoring. Captain Graf appears still to be under par with that knee injured in football.

Saturday night, the Bucks will be host to the University of Kentucky cagers, with tip-off time set at 8 p. m. and only general admission tickets to be sold.

Ohio State Def Kentucky, 43

COLUMBUS, O., Dec. 13 — (AP). —Ohio State's university's basketball team won their second victory of the season tonight, defeating the University of Kentucky Wildcats 43 to 41 before 3,731 fans.

With less than a minute to play, the Bucks held a 42-39 edge, but Jimmy King, substitute Wildcat center, eluded the Ohio defenders to sink an under-basket shot. With 15 seconds to go, Milt Ticco, reserve forward for Kentucky, missed a shot from under the hoop that would have put the invaders out front.

Buckeyes Lose To Bears, 50-38

BERKELEY, Calif., Dec. 28.—(AP)—University of California scored an easy 50-to-38 basket ball victory over Ohio State here Saturday night. The Bears took the lead at the outset and held it throughout the game.

Only during brief spurts were the visitors able to give the Bears any real opposition. They were without a score the first 10 minutes of the game.

California was in front, 32 to 16, at the half. Many California substitutes were sent in the second half and the Ohioans scored a little more freely.

Buck Defeats At Three In a Row

BERKELEY, CALIF., DEC. 30.—Ohio State's basketball team started the long trip homeward today, following close of a three-game western trip that ended in disaster with each stop. Latest reversal for the Big Ten visitors came last night when Stanford bumped them off, 60 to 45.

Handicapped by the great height of their opponents, Ohio State was forced to adopt a long-shot offense and, when upper court substitutes began to click by this method, the Bucks almost overtook their towering opponents.

Although Stanford led all the way, at one time in the second half the Bucks pulled up to within three points of a tie after a succession of long ones. The Indians were in front, 28 to 17, at the half.

In its previous western games, Ohio State lost to Creighton at Omaha, 60 to 34, and to California here Saturday night, 50 to 38. That brought their point total to 117 as against 170 for opponents in the three games, an average defeat of 56.6 to 39.

Made Good Start

The three successive defeats was a surprise because the Bucks had started the season by defeating the strong Great Lakes Naval Training station team, 38-32, a team which later turned in a 41-36 win over Indiana and a 54-39 decision over Purdue.

The night was one of disaster for the other Western conference quintet in action. Michigan, previously a winner over Michigan State but beaten by Notre Dame, lost its second tilt to Butler, 45-37. The Indianapolis five also has defeated Iowa while losing to Purdue, Northwestern and Illinois of the Big Ten.

Tonight the Illini will complete pre-conference competition by entertaining Harvard, while Iowa also will engage in its last contest prior to the start of league action by playing host to Nebraska. The conference season opens Saturday night.

COLUMBUS, O., Jan. 3—(AP)—A rangy Minnesota basketball team which swept through all pre-season opposition tonight swamped Ohio state, 56 to 42, in a western conference opener before 2,950 fans.

Forward Don Smith led the Gopher attack with 15 points while Ohio State's veteran forward, Dick Fisher, provided one of the bright performances in Ohio State's offense with 13 points.

Smith and his two teammates, Don Matton and Tony Jaros, sent Minnesota on a scoring spree as soon as the game opened, and within the first nine minutes they ran up 21 points while Ohio State got but nine. It was that big lead that gave the Gophers the victory.

corded 15 chances to hit the net and made good on 14. Gecowets, who tosses 'em up as coolly and calmly as Joe Louis flattens challengers, missed that, but after all, he hit eight others.

Monday night, the Bucks will have additional chance to prove whether or not their new-found brilliance is a mere polish or a permanent thing—whether they're gilded lilies or diamonds who have merely been in the rough. Northwestern, with sensational Otto Graham, comes to the coliseum and the resulting clash should provide plenty of entertainment.

the dash and drive that a winning team displays. Too, the Wildcats were just a bit bashful in getting off their feet to retrieve the ball off the bankboards.

THREE OUT ON FOULS

Graham and big Don Clawson, along with McLain, fell victims of the four personal foul ruling.

The victory, witnessed by 3291 fans served as balm on the wounds caused by the football defeat at the hands of Northwestern last fall.

It was the Bucks' second Conference triumph in five starts and the setback was the third straight in the Big Ten for the Wildcats, who opened the season with three consecutive victories.

Saturday night, Ohio State will meet Michigan at Ann Arbor and next Monday night the Bucks will entertain the cellar-dwelling Chicago crew.

WOLVES WIN BY 53 TO 39

ANN ARBOR, MICH., JAN. 24. — (AP). — Michigan's improving Wolverines took a first half lead and held it throughout to take a 53 to 39 Big Ten victory over Ohio State tonight.

It was the fourth Big Ten loss for the Buckeyes against two triumphs.

Capt. Bill Cartmill touched off the spark which gave Michigan its second conference triumph in seven games and took individual scoring honors with 17 points.

He scored the first basket straight-away from the initial tip-off and never slackened his pace as the Wolverines, after exchanging the lead a couple of times, pulled away for a margin of 27 to 16 at the half.

Teammate Leo Doyle was close behind Cartmill, both in fire and scoring. Max Gecowetz led the Buckeyes with 13 points.

Ohio never came closer than nine points to closing the gap in the second period. With less than three minutes to go, the Wolverines piled in five points to boost their lead.

In the first period the Wolverines lagged momentarily while Gecowetz teamed with Jack Graf and Jack Wilce to build up a 7-3 margin, but Cartmill, Doyle and Jim Mandler pitched in to take the lead away. The Buckeyes never scared the Wolverines following again, although the going was rough and fast all the way.

Attempts by the Wolverines to freeze the ball in the final few minutes were almost useless, the pace was so fast. The icing tactics either slipped to give the Buckeyes the ball or loosened their defense for Michigan to whip in a score.

O. S. U. USES 15 MEN IN THIRD TRIUMPH

COLUMBUS, O., Jan. 26. —(AP)—
Using 15 players, Ohio State university tonight defeated Chicago, 63 to 35, in a Western conference basketball game before a crowd of 1,989.

Ohio State dominated the play throughout and led, 25 to 17, at halftime.

The victory was Ohio's third in seven Big Ten starts and gave Chicago its seventh straight loss without a win in conference play.

If Coach Olsen has a problem in selecting a starting line-up for the Indiana game Monday night, he has about 3326 fans to help him out. Everyone of them probably would vote for Wise and Sims at the forwards, Shaw at center, McClain and Gecowets at the guards. They really did the business Saturday night.

Badgers Top Bucks In Big Ten Contest

MADISON, WIS., FEB. 14.—(AP).—University of Wisconsin extended its Big Ten basketball winning streak to six in a row by defeating Ohio State 49 to 39 Saturday.

The Buckeyes spotted the Badgers 17 points before they connected with a free throw, but then the visitors played a better brand of ball, and at the half Ohio trailed 25 to 16.

Paced by Shaw and Gecowets, the Buckeyes narrowed the count to 34 to 37 against them, but Wisconsin rallied to put the game on ice.

Wisconsin's stout defense kept Ohio sharpshooters firing at long range most of the game.

Although he performed below usual standard, the Badgers' Johnny Kotz collected 13 points on five baskets and three free throws. Center Ray Patterson helped with 10.

Basketball

Johnny Kotz, Wisconsin's 200-pound forward, stole the show and he'd have been just as terrific if the game itself hadn't been a slight bit dull and sloppy. He's just about everything conference observers have been saying.

Against the Bucks, Saturday, he dumped in 20 points to establish a new Big Ten individual scoring record of 193 points. Jewell Young sent 184 points through the net for Purdue in 1938, which was a previous high for modern times. Chuck Carney of Illinois scored 188 points in the era when one man shot all of his team's fouls. It must be explained, however, that Young set his mark in 12 games, while this is the thirteenth game in which Kotz has appeared.

Kotz left the floor late in the first period with 10 of the 12 points he needed to better Young's record. He came back after the intermission, at which time the Bucks trailed 24-19, dropped the necessary basket in a hurry and went on to bag eight more points. And the surprising part of it is he is strictly a team player and not one of his severest critics could accuse him of hogging the ball or the Badgers of "feeding him."

Only Junior

He's big and rugged—and bad news to rival coaches, he's only a junior! Kotz easily held to his Big Ten scoring lead.

Ohio State played a brand of ball typical of its status in the Big Ten this year—ninth place, just ahead of Chicago. There were times when Coach Harold Olsen's young men looked good enough to win, especially in the fading minutes, but their shooting was poor, their floor work equally amiss and their defense none too good.

Only once was Wisconsin out of the lead, that immediately after the start of the second half when Freddie Miller hit for one to bring the count to 21-24, and Maxie Gecowets skidding a pair through to make it 25-24.

But that's where Kotz recalled he had a bit of record-breaking to do. He bombarded the net for three straight field goals and a free throw and that looked like the ball game. With less than a minute remaining, the Bucks pulled to within four points at 39-43, but Wisconsin hit for a free throw and held fast to its lead.

Few Fouls

It was an unusual game in that only 21 personal fouls were called and most of those came in the last half. Late, Warren Schrage and Bobby Sullivan of the Badgers were forced to the sidelines on fouls and Jack Graf of the Bucks left by the same route.

Gecowets, playing just a bit under his usual form paced the Buckeye attack with 13 points, while Freddie Miller came through with 11. For Wisconsin, of course, it was Kotz, who scored six of his eight baskets on that famous one-handed push shot.
